TIGER'S ROAR

Tiger's Roar

Footprints in the Sands of Time,
Presented by the Senior Class of Lawrenceburg Consolidated High School
Lawrenceburg, Indiana

IN PROFOUND RESPECT

with sincere love, with hearts and minds weighty in hallowed memories touched with bitter sadness, we dedicate this yearbook to Harold C.
Crater, our beloved superintendent.

“How living are the dead!

Enshrined, but not apart,
How safe within the heart
Whatever else be fled!”

We hold them still—our dead.

FOREWORD

The 1941 annual, Tiger's Roar, offers to its readers a survey of student activities of L. C. H. S. It contains a reflection of the fondest memories of the class of '41's high school days. The tiger footprints, the theme, trace their way from the tiger's den to his various antics and activities.

ADMINISTRATION

National defense is twofold. Before a nation can undertake a military program, that nation should be prepared spiritually and morally to perform the task to which its citizenry may be called. They serve the nation who bear arms, and they serve the nation who builds the character of its men and women of tomorrow.

Our school has offered both services to our country. Mr. Crater, our superintendent, has given the former type of service. Mr. Benedict, our acting superintendent, has remained to carry to a successful end the philosophy of service to the people—a philosophy of which Mr. Crater was an ardent exponent.

To the end that our school children be better men and women, devoted to unselfish service, we say to them, "Render to your people that kind of service which your people are rendering you; serve your country well and when in doubt, remember to serve with the same spirit as our Mr. Crater and Mr. Benedict."

CALENDAR

Come on, students, pick up your feet and let's wander over the latter part of '40 and the first part of '41. Get into the swing of things, and step lively. Oops! Careful, that's it; watch your step; there's a hill ahead. Ah, yes—5 paces to September 2, 1940.

- September
- 2: It's the beginning of "Labor Day" for the faculty.
 - 3: Listen to the rustle of rental sheets. It's back to school for us.
 - 4: There are rumors that school has really started.
 - 5: Watch those flys, fellows. Come on, and swing that bat. Now, how did this happen? Aurora 22, Tigers 4.
 - 13: Interclass softball started.
 - 18: No 4th term election of class officers.
 - 19: Boom-Boom! Toot-Toot! The Tiger band's first concert.
 - 20: Tigers reach "home plate" by downing Rising Sun.
 - 23: "Take me out to the ball game."—Tigers 8, Batesville 2.
 - 24: What's this? No L. Hi News? Press broke down!
 - 24: Now, we'll bat more home runs wearing these new suits.
 - 25: Turn about's fair play—Tigers 3, Aurora 2.
 - 25: Do you want to be in movies? Here's your chance. School purchased a movie projector.
 - 27: Let's trip a light fantastic to Johnny Jam's Jazz at the Junior Frolic. Ain't we got fun?
 - 30: Those Red Devils! My, my. What's this?—Lawrenceburg 5, Vevay 7. Aurora's lucky winner in this tourney, but there'll come a day.

Be careful. Here's a step off to the second month of school, and we're on October's door step.

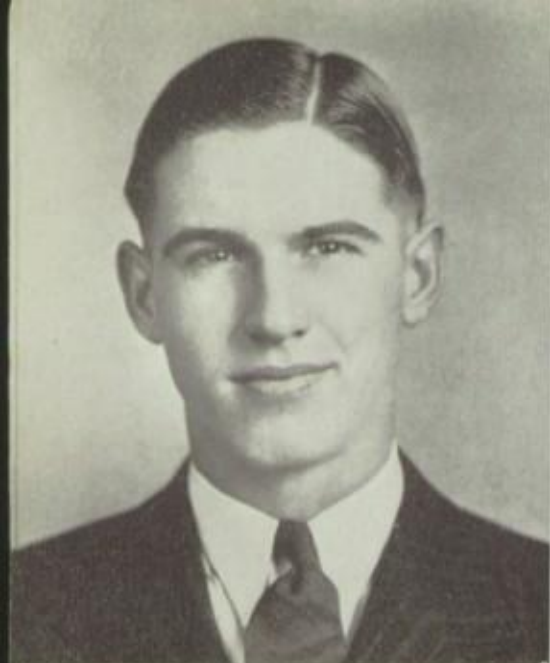

- October
- 1: Trickle, trickle, nickel, nickel, only it's Coca Cola; we're being treated by the Coca-Cola Company—remember?
 - 2: The World Series opened today. The Tigers played Guilford—Guilford got excited; 2-0 Guilford.
 - 4: Hear that sound in the gym? That's "Dick Bray" Crater announcing the World Series Game.
 - 5: Lift 'em up high and keep in step 'cause here comes the Tiger band in the Aurora Farmers' Fair.
 - 7: The Cubs started loopin' 'em in at first practice of season tonight.
 - 10: The Reverend Martin gave a talk at convocation.
 - 11: Hear those groans, sighs, and—etc. No explanation needed—credit books.

SENIORS

After four short years at L. C. H. S. we must leave this place of happy hearts and smiling faces to face the world unafraid. We consider ourselves educated. Some say that we are just another class that has reached its culmination—but we have the privilege of saying that we were the first freshman class enrolled in L. C. H. S. For four years we have endeavored to reach what we consider the supreme goal—GRADUATION.

Life is wonderful for we are seniors. This is the general thought that lingers in the minds of many. We dreamed of the night when we would receive our diplomas. (What has happened in our four years of high school.) Let us turn the clock back just exactly four years to the time when we enrolled in L. C. H. S. and see what has happened during our high school career.

As freshmen we were looked upon as something trivial; we were ignored and we felt as if we did not have a friend in the world. Our days became fuller and richer. We began to take an interest in the activities of the day, and before the first semester was over we began to feel that we were appreciated. High school life was now as we had expected—and how we loved it.

Oh, yes, we were very busy. Our sophomore year had started. We were planning to work hard that year and some of us had even been moved with a little ambition. We felt that we wanted to accomplish something worthwhile. While the rest of the world was in a dilemma, we were pondering over our simple, unimportant thoughts of the day. Soon a sophomore becomes an upper classman.

This year we were called jolly juniors. Why, I don't know! We didn't worry about our lessons nor did we get excited when reprimanded by a teacher. The prom was the thought in the junior mind. The planning and preparation was of great importance to both boys and girls.

The night had come. The prom was shining in all its glory—the juniors proud of their prom—the seniors proud to be seniors. Everyone was dancing to the soft music and enjoying every minute of it. Suddenly a few seniors gathered together and reminded each other that this would be their last prom. The smiles on their faces vanished; the light in their eyes disappeared and sullen faced expressions took the place of the once smiling faces. Joy, sadness, laughter, and tears now tell the tale of the graduates. We are going out into the world. We can no longer dream of the past but must think of the future and what it holds for us. With hard work and sincere faith in ourselves, we conquer all the things that we have gone after. We didn't give up as so many do but kept right on going. The path of progress was in front of us and we followed it, not knowing just where it would take us. Success is our dream as graduates. May all our dreams come true.

SOPHOMORES

At last the class of '43 has earned the right to be treated as human beings; they have passed the probationary period of the freshman year; they are asserting their hereditary rights. There will be no more bowing and bending and scraping to the smirking upperclassmen. They refuse to be brow beaten any longer. They are Sophomores! Yes, they have changed. It might be said of them that they have a little more ambition—but not too much! They spend fifteen minutes each day on preparation of lessons. (Yes, I should say they have changed!)

School had been in session several months before they “got around” to electing officers. They placed their confidence in those whom they chose as leaders for the year: Jimmy Mulroy, president; Donna Mae Roland, vice-president; Thaddeus Geisert, secretary-treasurer.

FIRST ROW:

Manuel, Reichert, Hannan, Mix, Fowler, Blauvelt, Holland, Lipps, J. Henson, Bockhorst, Rogers, Todd, Steinmetz.

FRESHMEN

Fall found the class of '44 standing on the threshold of its high-school career. From the heights to the depths these freshmen descended. Although they were tops in the eighth grade, they had to prove their worth by starting from the bottom in high school.

They treaded lightly at first, but then they became more bold and entered into the many activities of L. C. H. S..

Betty Jean Putnam, president; Eugene Ortman, vice president; and Mildred Riley, secretary-treasurer lead the class through a most successful school year.

HALF-YEAR STUDENTS

Change of semester came and brought with it an innovation at L. C. H. S.—the advent of a new freshman class. The group of nine boys and nine girls came from Central School and immediately plunged themselves into a full scholastic program of English, Literature, Vocations and General Business so that they may enter as sophomores in the fall term.

During their time at Central, these half-year students were actively engaged in sports. Now that they have entered high school, some of them are broadening their education further by learning to play musical instruments in preparation for participation in the band next year.

JUNIOR DIARY

Dear Diary:

September 2, 1940

With the raucous ringing of the 8:15 bell, we Juniors embarked upon the third lap of our journey through high school (the students secretly call it Alcatraz). After the reverberations of the undercurrent of discussion, as the returning students relived their summer experiences, had died away, we Juniors settled down to the realization of the seriousness of the task that lay before us—that of giving the seniors a prom which they could always remember with a tinge of nostalgia.

Dear Diary:

September 10

"Will the meeting please come to order?" interrogates Mrs. Seibel, our esteemed sponsor. Finally after much cajoling, with giggles from the girls, and guffaws from the boys, the meeting came to order; and four of our astute Juniors tasted the sweets of success as their classmates honored them with the following offices: president, Carl Evert; vice-president, Louis Bryant; secretary, Dorothy Vest; treasurer, Dale Darling. With the "ship of state" in the hands of these capable Juniors, we are assured of success.

Dear Diary:

September 27

Ho-hum! Life is a bowl of cherries! Why should we worry about lessons—let the teachers worry—our chief concern is a date for the JUNIOR DANCE. With our best bib-and-tucker, a hair ribbon in our hair, and "rhythm in our bones", we "trucked on down" to get "into the groove" with Johnny Jam. Soft lights—sweet music—a milk shake at the Greek's—hands under the table—a stroll home. Thanks for the memory!

Dear Diary:

November 14

Hey, fellas, wait up! Have you heard about the new pin sale we Juniors are launching? Believe me, I'm getting mine early so I can "hang" it on my best girl before some other galoot beats me to it. The Juniors are going to hit another high peak in their sales; they are selling with a vengeance.

Dear Diary:

November 28

Say, Freshie is that mine? Oh, pardon me. I had one just like it. In fact, every student in school has one like it. For your enlightenment, dear diary, the "it" refers to those pencils—orange and black with the Tiger's hardwood schedule—which the super-salesmen, we Juniors, sold. We're hot on your trail, seniors. Our motto is the "Best Prom or Bust".

Dear Diary:

January 1, 1941

Pop-corn! Candy! Chewing gum! Cracker-jack! Say you, young feller, ask your mama if she'll buy you an ice-cream cone. Coke, mister? Hot dogs? How many? And speaking of "dogs" mine are certainly "barking" after the beating they took today when we Juniors sold candy and "stuff" at the New Year's Invitational Tourney. The Juniors really made a "haul" today. More shekels in the ole sock. On to the Prom!

Dear Diary:

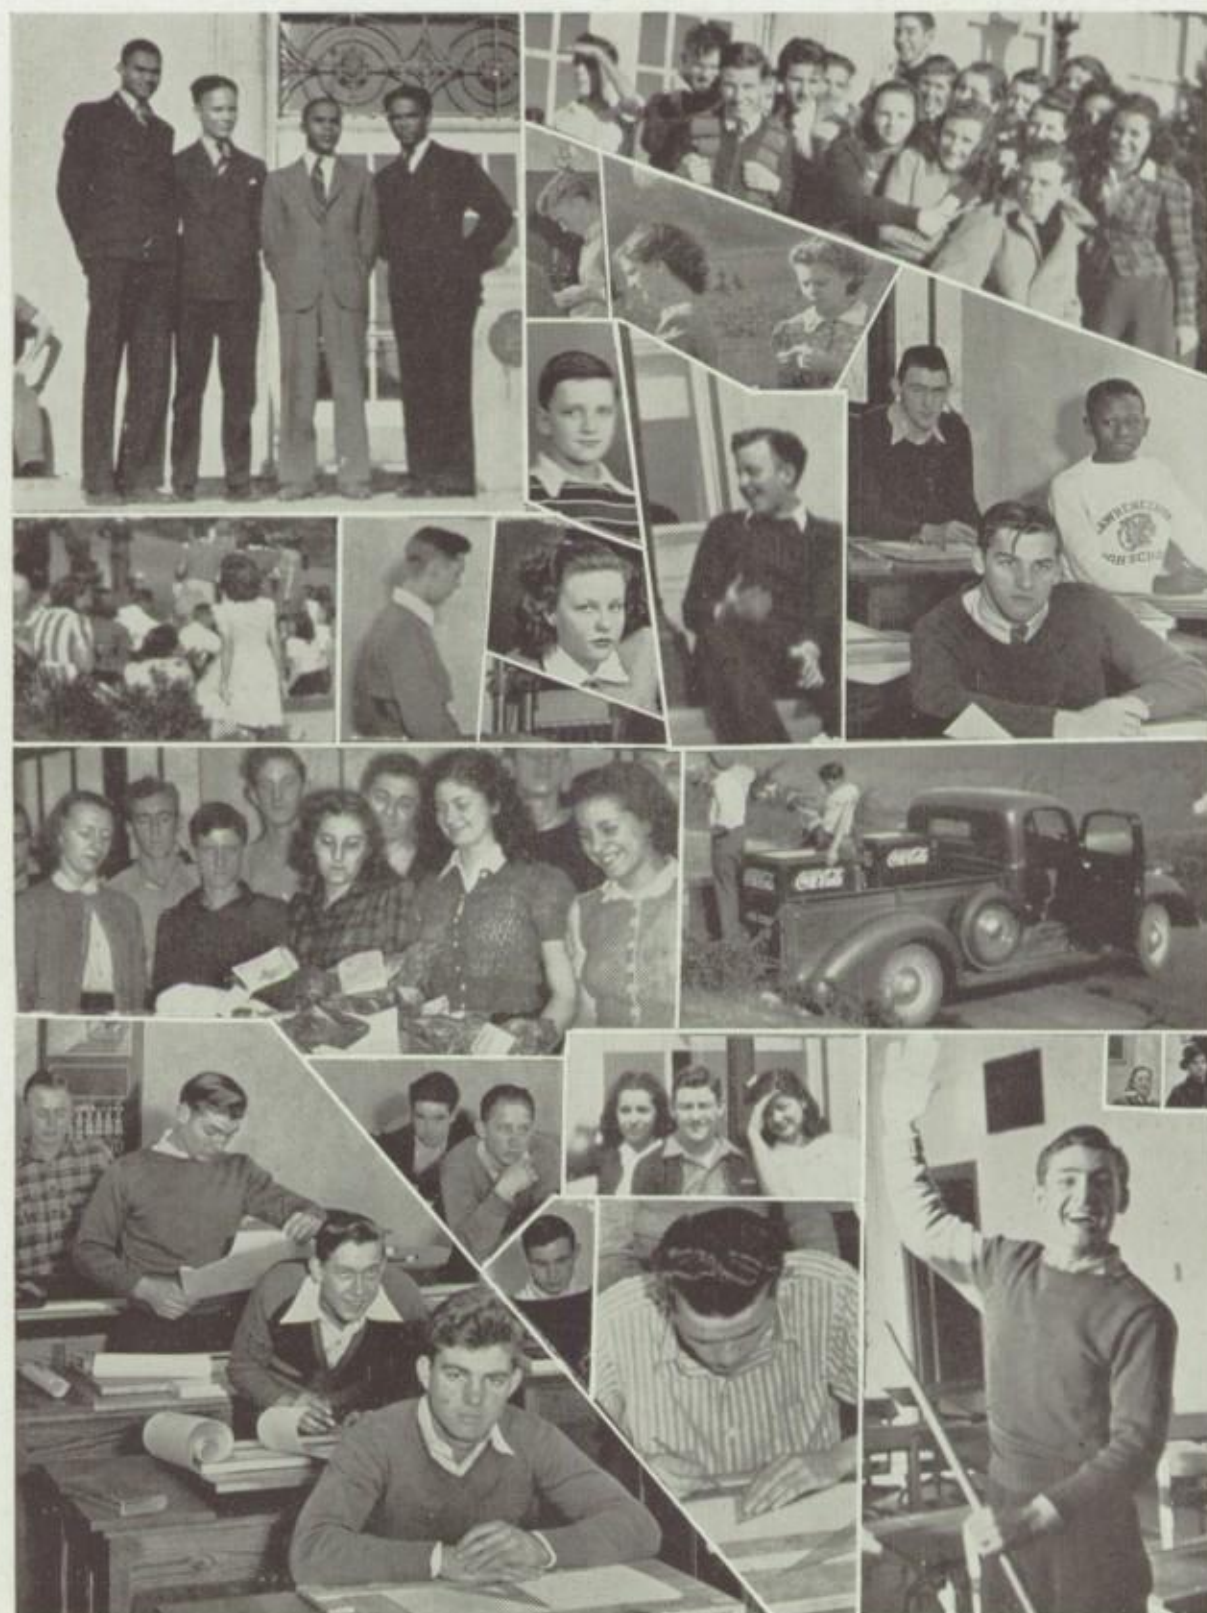

May 10

"Time is the stuff life is made of." Little did we Juniors realize that so many grains of sand had sifted through the hour-glass of life; that the hour had come when Cinderella steps out of the ashes to become a princess for one night. Yes, it is the night of the prom, the hour of enchantment when the boys discard those dirty old cords and sneakers and the girls cast off sweaters, skirts, and "saddles". There is the muffled sound of feet shuffling to the cadence of the pulsing, throbbing music, the sophisticated swish of taffeta and tulle, and the fragranec of gardenias permeating the dim shadows of an Hawaiian setting. Even our pedagogues put aside their classroom dignity to join us in the festivities of the gala occasion.

Dear Diary:

May 11

The prom is now relegated to the mistiness of memory; the gardenia petals are tucked tenderly away between the yellow leaves of a favorite old book to be brought out when memories have dimmed a little; the taffeta and tulle have been folded back into their boxes, and the blue coats and white flannels have had their "day". Cinderella has gone back to her ashes. We have said a fitting farewell to the seniors;; but our hearts sink to our boots when we realize that we are next.

Tiger's Play

CALENDAR (Continued)

- 15: Miss Hick's home room took the cake and also the party the journalism class gave them.
- 17: We can't have Lawrence Tibbett and Jeanette McDonald, but we had George Horn and Helen Manuel in the "Forest Prince".
- 18: Those "Mad Men of Music" had a band party tonight. Music by Glenn Miller. (Psst! only records).
- 23: Students get even—Teachers go to school for a change at Indianapolis.
- 28: First basketball cut.
- 31: Birthday of the "great book". First annual meeting.

Here's another decline. Just two steps; but quit lagging, there's a lot of good things in these next two months of school. Let's see.

- November
- 1: Wow! Take a gander at that score, Tigers 36, Rising Sun 24.
 - 7: Taps and salute. We're at flag dedication in Central School. You remember now?
 - 8: Some string it; some swing it; but the quartet from Mississippi really sings it.
 - 8: We're doing all right—Tigers 29, North Vernon 20. Maybe it was the band's maneuvers that helped??
 - 11: Rumor had it that there was a dramatics class. Now we know it. A swell Armistice Day program was presented by Miss Lees and her stage-crafters.
 - 12: What's going on around here? Potential Maurice Evans' and Helen Hayes' are organizing a Thespian Club.
 - 13: Movie free for nothing from the Fitch Brothers' Funeral Home.
 - 14: "The hand is quicker than the eye"—theory was proved today when Stella Willins started typing at convocation.
 - 14: Watch the birdie, seniors.
 - 14: Who said the freshmen were drips? They had a party, didn't they?
 - 15: Lady Luck is dribbling with us—Tigers 32, Vevay 29.
 - 15: I. U. was honored by members of the Thespian Club. (Makes better type).
 - 19: Dramatics Club members are really putting down their feet. They are casting for three one-act plays.
 - 20: Third time is a charm—Tigers 43, Aurora 37.
 - 21: Oh, Happy Day! Thanksgiving Vacation!
 - 22: Tip your hats, boys, to "Glorious America" given by the band.
 - 25: All good things have an end—vacation's over.
 - 25: Pick up your cues! A play practice begins.
 - 27: Don't look now but Greensburg 41, Tigers 30.

RISING SUN

The Tigers opened the season with an impressive 36-24 win over the Rising Sun Shiners. The Orange and Black jumped to a 15-4 quarter lead, increased it to 22-9 half and 27-18 at the third quarter, before the subs took over in the final period. Terrill and Dennis with eleven and ten points respectively led the Tigers' offensive.

NORTH VERNON

The Tigers broke a jinx that had extended over some twenty-six contests and over a stretch of thirteen years when they hung up their initial Southeastern Conference victory November 8; Johnny Sine's Panthers fell before the Benedictmen 29-20. Bill Cook, tallying thirteen points, was the Tigers' big offensive gun in this game. The Panthers held a 13-11 half time lead, but the Tigers staged a second half drive that netted them a 21-14 advantage at the three-quarter mark.

VEVAY

Vevay always puts up a fight when Lawrenceburg comes to town, and this game was no exception. Vevay staged a last quarter rally, only to have it fall short at 32-29.

AURORA

The Red Devil - Tiger tussles usually prove to be bang-up ballgames, but this was not the case November 20 at Aurora. The Orange and Black started fast and were on top 25-9 at the half, 36-20 at the third period, and 43-35 final, with the subs finishing the game. Terrill led with twelve points, while Kittle and Dennis shared second place honors with ten each. This was the Benedictmen's third Southeastern Conference victory in as many starts.

GREENSBURG

The Tigers had the misfortune of catching the Pirates on a hot night and Greensburg won 41-32, leading throughout. The quarter ended 17-6, the half 29-12, and the third stanza at 37-22, Greensburg on top at all three stopping points.

BATESVILLE

Lawrenceburg kept its unblemished conference record intact as they played host to the Batesville Bulldogs November 29. The Tigers won 31-22, after holding a 15-12 intermission advantage.

RUSHVILLE

Three-hundred-forty loyal fans made the trip to Rushville December 3, only to see Rushville gain a 26-22 decision over the Tigers. The half ended 12-11 Rushville, and on a bad third quarter in which the Tigers were outscored 9-4. The Lions were able to check the locals from there on in. Cook and Kittle shared honors with six points apiece; and Young and Pearsey, with eight and seven points respectively, paced the Lions.

MADISON

This game was for the conference leadership, both teams sharing the conference lead prior to the game. The Cubs emerged the winner, 33-28. "Butch" Hornbach paced the Tigers with twelve points garnered on five field goals and two charity tosses.

BROOKVILLE

The Greyhounds threw a scare into the Orange and Black as they visited the Tiger den December 31. Brookville took over a 21-20 lead in the fourth period, but the Tigers held them scoreless the remainder of the game and won 25-21.

MILAN

As was expected the Indians proved easy pickings for the Tigers, the Orange and Black winning 47-19. Terrill scored twelve points to lead in this department.

NEWPORT, KY.

Newport, when they whipped the Tigers 30-27 on the Newport floor, avenged the defeat they suffered at the hands of Lawrenceburg the previous season. Dick Oppen hit for two fielders in the last frame to keep the locals in the game, before the Kentuckians went on to win.

MADISON (BLIND TOURNEY)

Don Server and Bill Lodge were too much for the Tigers in the Blind Tourney, and the Cubs registered a 38-29 win. Lodge tallied seventeen points and Server eight, while Dennis' seven was high for Lawrenceburg.

BATESVILLE

The Tigers played their poorest ball of the season in this game, Batesville winning 19-12, after leading 6-4 at the half. Lawrenceburg scored but two points in each of the first three quarters, while the Bulldogs failed to tally in the second stanza.

VEVAY

Bill Dennis paced the Tigers with fourteen points in this game as the locals rung up an easy conference win at the expense of the Pioneers, 26-13.

SCOTTSBURG

It took a field goal in the last fifteen seconds to pull this one out of the fire. Bill Dennis hit from the center of the floor to whip the Scotties 21-20. Only a last quarter spurt by the Tigers enabled them to overcome Scottsburg's 16-10 third quarter lead to win.

AURORA

The Red Devils gained revenge for the earlier season defeat at the hands of the Tigers when they won a thrilling 33-32 overtime decision at the Lawrenceburg gym, January 24. The Tigers were on top 17-8 at the half, but the Devils managed to knot the count 31-31 at the end of the regulation playing time, winning on Harry Ritter's field goal in the overtime. The scoring of the Orange and Black was rather evenly divided, Cook's eight leading the pack. Don Ritter led the Aurora offensive with thirteen points.

BROOKVILLE

Lawrenceburg traveled to Brookville January 31, took over a 16-6 half time lead, and went on to win 25-20. Terrill led with seven points.

NORTH VERNON

Led by their center, Williams, who scored in every quarter in raking up his sixteen-point total, the Panthers handed the Tigers their fourth Southeastern Conference loss on February 4—35-28.

LIBERTY

The Tigers set a fast pace in this game with which for the first half the Warriors were able to keep in step, but Liberty faltered in the late stages, and the Benedictmen won 44-35. Terrill and Dennis, with fifteen and twelve points respectively, were high for Lawrenceburg, while Hensley got fifteen for Liberty.

HAGERSTOWN

Lawrenceburg traveled to Hagerstown February 14 to meet the highly taunted Tigers of that city and gave their opponents a good game although dropping a 34-28 decision. Hagerstown, winners of fifteen out of seventeen games previous to this tilt, were on the short end of a 24-20 score at the third quarter but outscored Lawrenceburg in the last stanza for the victory.

MADISON

Madison kept its unblemished conference record intact February 21 at the local gym, when they defeated the Tigers, 33-30. Dennis' twelve points were high for the Tigers, while Lodge's sixteen were best for the Cubs.

AURORA (Sectional)

The basketball playing days of the seven senior members of the Tigers came to an abrupt end in the Sectional Tournament at Aurora, February 28, when the Red Devils cut loose with a basket barrage in the second half which gave them a 46-24 victory. The game lived up to expectations for the first two periods, which ended 17-14, Aurora. Dennis and Cook, playing their last game, led in the scoring department with eight and five points respectively.

TRACK

Five lettermen returned to Mr. Benedict this year for the track team, three of whom were members of last year's record breaking relay team—Jeffries, Schnetzer, and Miller—that ran the mile in 3:46.5 at the conference meet at Hanover College, May 4, 1940.

With these lettermen and several promising underclassmen the track team opened the season with two dual meets at Aurora. After dropping both of these by scores of 68-63 and 71 5/6 to 59 1/6 the Tigers came to life and annexed the five way meet at Aurora on Saturday, April 19. They took six firsts and scored forty-eight points, easily outclassing their opponents—Madison, Aurora, Guilford, and Batesville.

TRACK SCHEDULE

April	9	Dual meet at Aurora.

BASEBALL

With several lettermen returning, prospects for the baseball season this spring seemed unusually bright.

The Tiger nine, with an all senior infield and an outfield of sophomores and juniors along with some good freshmen ready for reserve duty, won their opening two tilts of the season. They inaugurated the season with a 6-5 conquest of Taylor High of North Bend and followed this with a 2-0 whitewashing of Brookville. In the latter game, Noah Albright pitched masterful ball, allowing only three scattered singles.

The team follows, with positions denoted by OF, outfield; INF, infield; P, pitcher; and C, catcher: Albright, P; Cook, INF; Tibbetts, INF; Dennis, C; Holden, INF; Nanz, P; Kittle, INF; Townsend, OF; Nowlin, OF; Lacy, OF; Collins, INF; Oppen, OF; Kirsch, OF; Farrar, OF; McWethy, OF; Redding, INF; and Todd, INF.

INTRAMURALS

The main purpose of the Intramural Association is to give each boy, who isn't on the Varsity, a chance to participate in intramural sports.

The organization provides for recreation as well as for good sportsmanship and cooperation. Teamwork is the byword.

Through good sports, the boys are taught the value of comradeship in competition and how to make good friends without letting misunderstandings take the upper hand.

No awards of sweaters or letters are made in this activity, but the boys achieve, as their personal awards, conquest over fear and hate.

The senior class triumphed in all the scheduled games—softball, basketball, soccer, and football.

The officials for these games were members of the Intramural Board or boys who were not in the association.

G. A. A.

The G. A. A. is one year older now, and of course, this has been its fullest year. When October dawned, the freshies, as well as the old troupers, trotted out to kick a new soccer ball.

Varied colors were seen flying through the air stopping with a "pling" in a freshly made target. Naturally, the G. A. A. was getting some use out of the bows and arrows which they purchased last year.

As Jack Frost made his presence known, the girls took shelter within the gym. Here they started burning up the hardwood, (warming it up for the Tigers). I could add here that the "Faithful Four", meaning seniors, held their own in this tourney; but the juniors came out with triumphant colors.

After the Tigers put away their suits and equipment for the season, the girls also dispensed with their basketballs and began tossing a volleyball over the net.

All of you will never forget the "Sadie Hawkins" dance of '41. Members worked unceasingly in their efforts to produce a bigger and better one than the preceding year. The G. A. A. organization is trying to set a precedent concerning this gala event.

At the beginning of the year a new point system was arranged which proved to be much more efficient than the old one. To achieve certain point honors, members took more interest in such outside activities as hiking, skating, bicycling, horse-back riding, and other sports.

In the latter part of January several members were awarded pins which they had earned by participation in various sports. The pins were of a different design than those of previous years. These were of gold with the words, "girls athletics", in orange and black on the pin and the letter "L" in orange on the guard. The G. A. A. purchased their yearly awards by selling unique basketball pins to all the classes.

Efficiency tests and baseball joined the line of sports, and shortly after these modern Amazons dropped all play and settled down for vacation.

- 29: I'd better not say anything so there won't be a change in luck—Tigers 31, Batesville 22.
- 29: The Old swing out the Young at the Alumni Dance.
- December 3: All aboard! Rushville, here we come. And how! Rushville 26, ahem—pardon—Tigers 22.
- 6: The tables must have turned—Madison 33, Tigers 28.
- 11: Smile pretty! For your group picture, you underclassmen.
- 11: "Army on Wheels". That's a picture we saw today at convocation.
- 11: Did you pick up those "ah's" and "oh's"? They were for the Senior Christmas Dance. A real tree and all the trimmings—beauty gets a person, doesn't it?
- 13: Looks like we're back on the beat now—Tigers 25, Brookville 21.
- 13: Why travel when we can see "Sights in Indiana" in our gym?
- 16: No one's getting ahead of the sophomores. They're having a party, too. For that matter, the teachers are doing all right with their farewell party for Mr. Crater.
- 17: Will miracles never cease? Six page edition of L. Hi News!
- 17: What a team! Tigers 47, Milan 19.
- 18: We have our ups and downs. Mostly downs for Miss Covert at the Latin Club skating party.
- 19: All right, all right. No, it's not Major Bowes, but it's the band's Amateur Hour. Can't you recall?
- 20: This certainly is starting Christmas vacation off right—Newport 30, Tigers 27.
- 20: Don't worry. That noise isn't the roof falling in; the home rooms are just having a party.
- 25: Erry-may Is-mas-cray (pig-latin, to you).

We're treading on something new and mysterious, so trip along on your tiptoes while we wander over to January first.

- January 1: 1941 is born. I guess he has a right on this calendar.
- 1: Juniors are having a big day 'cause of the individual tourney. These Madison Cubs sure have something on the ball.
- 3: There's a slip here, and not of the printing press—Batesville 19, Tigers 12.
- 6: Daily routine begins again, and Christmas vacation ends.
- 9: A pest is in the midst of us. You know that nasty flu germ. Play is postponed.
- 15: "Till we meet again"—Mr. Crater's farewell.

We Go To Press

TIGER'S ROAR

A huge success! That was the goal toward which the annual staff strove in producing the 1941 annual. Authors, photographers, artists, make-up-men, salesmen—all joined forces in contributing their time and talents to this project.

Firms were contacted, decisions made, contracts let, and the Tiger's Roar was started on its road to success. Days were spent taking pictures; evenings were devoted to planning the make-up of the annual. Pictures were identified, cut, and mounted; and writeups were assigned. Papers piled up and the wastepaper basket became un-"pleasingly plump" with discarded articles.

Much needed and valuable guidance and aid was given us by our sponsors, Miss Katrina Ragsdale and Miss Celeste O'Shaughnessy.

After many long hours of struggle and strife, headaches and heartaches, the staff of the 1941 Tiger's Roar presents its humble effort for the pleasure and enjoyment of its readers. May it equal, if not excel, the year books of the past!

L-HI NEWS

On completion of a most difficult task, the L. Hi News staff can joyfully say that their untiring efforts have been a success. Had it not been for the loyal support of the business people and students, the publication of this paper would have been impossible.

Energetic reporters proved their ability in obtaining first-rate news. Interviews, surveys, bits of gossip about students and highlights on activities added interest and zest to the paper.

Toward the end of the year the newly organized cub reporters had charge of an edition. Impressions made by this issue seem to forecast the fact that the present staff will be succeeded by many enthusiastic journalists.

RIFLE CLUB

The Rifle Club, which was organized under the auspices of the American Legion, is an outstanding extra-curricular activity. Its first meeting was held in October at the Legion Hall during which these officers were elected: president, Norman Glenn; vice-president, Elwood Houston; secretary-treasurer, Jimmy Jacobs. The sponsors were Mr. Geisert, Mr. Roland and Mr. Crater. After Mr. Crater left for camp in January, Mr. Fabian was appointed sponsor in his place by the commander of the Legion.

At the first of the new year the club changed its meeting place to the basement of the high school. Here they have built a fifty foot range and practiced not only rifle shooting but also pistol shooting.

An April fool dance, which was very successful from the entertainment and money viewpoint, was given by the Rifle Club.

LETTERMEN

Early last fall a new club composed of boys who have participated and have been awarded letters in one or more of our school's interscholastic sports was formed in L. C. H. S. The purpose of the Lettermen's Club is to promote a more enthusiastic support of all high school athletics and to promote better sportsmanship among competitive athletes. Membership is open to any boy who has been awarded a letter in any sport. No qualifications are required for membership, but expulsion can be made of any member whose conduct or attitude is unbecoming to such an organization.

Provisions have been made in the constitution for inactive members, that is, those who prior to graduation from high school had earned awards in any of the various athletics. There are also honorary members, men who have distinguished themselves in behalf of high school athletics or have stimulated means of competitive sportsmanship. The officers of the Lettermen's Club are:

L'ALLIANCE FRANCAISE

With its reorganization in November L'Alliance Francaise chose to be guided by president, Hazel Olds; secretary, Barbara Litka; and treasurer, Evelyn Kistler.

Games using French words and pertaining to France were enjoyed at several meetings. In February a Valentine party was held and all who attended spent a pleasant evening. May was the most important month for the members of the French Club for it was then that they joined forces with the Latin Club to sponsor a school dance. The proceeds which were turned in to the treasury were used to help defray the expenses of the banquet.

S. E. P. Q.

Once more the S. E. P. Q. met to hold its first meeting of a new school year and to become better acquainted with the Romans of many centuries ago.

Seven sophomores were the stars of the evening. The initiation of these entering members was a solemn and lovely ceremony; each member held a lighted candle in an otherwise dark room and the oath of allegiance was taken.

Officers who were selected have proved to be competent officials. Marjorie Libbert was chosen as Senior Consul, Tom Cook as Junior Consul, Betty Heustis as Quaestor, and John McWethy as Scribus.

One of the outstanding events was the skating party held at the Sefferina Rollerdom in Cincinnati.

The May banquet celebrating the feast of Rosario, a day set aside by the Romans for honoring the dead, was the crowning glory of the year. This was the event in which the entering club members made their debut.

CHESS CLUB

The multitude is silent with anticipation. On the arena the sides stand ready to do mortal combat. The Whites, confident of victory, face equally confident Blacks. A hand moves stealthily across the table top, a hush, the game is on. The knight mounted on a spirited horse plunges forth to battle. The White knight counters with an equally judicious move; and those who stand in the fore, lowly pawns in this battle for conquest, are trampled on, beaten down, and exchanged for naught. The bishop, a monastic cavalier, enters the fray. Yonder the castle stands firm, a proper defense to the King's retreat. The queen unabashed regards the contest with splendor and royal countenance; all in battle are willing to do her bidding, for she is supreme.

Even though the battle is reminiscent of the days when knighthood and chivalry were in fashion, the contest is not one of blood, but one of skill; because we are witnessing a game of chess.

Under the leadership of Mr. Fabian, the Chess Club had its beginning and is now a well-established club. Although this is the first year, the students of L. C. H. S. have shown such a great interest that it will not be the last.

The club elected officers for both the first and second semesters. The first semester officers were Henry Nanz, president; Billy Snyder, vice-president; Bob Macy, secretary-treasurer. The second semester officers were Billy Snyder, president; Edwin Libbert, vice-president; and Donna Mae Roland, secretary-treasurer.

CAMERA CLUB

Picture-taking and picture-making is quite an art, and even the most amateur photographer can become an artist in that field. Under the direction of Mr. H. P. Harrison, the members of the Camera Club are taught how to "take" a picture correctly; they study composition, lighting effects, the chemistry of developing and the physical principles of printing and projection. The finished product may at first glance look like any ordinary print, but the members can guarantee that it is far superior and that they have learned much in the art of photography.

Owing to the nature of the undertaking, the best results can be accomplished by individual work; therefore, this club did not undertake the task of electing officers nor did it meet at any specified time. The benefit derived and progress made was thus left entirely to the individual member and has been attained in direct proportion to the time spent and the effort expended.

4 - H CLUB

With their motto 'Make the best better' twelve students enrolled in the 4-H Club of L. C. H. S. 1940-41. This nation-wide organization boasts the largest membership in the United States.

Members enrolled in the club are: Ruth Sedler, LaVerne Livingston, Ruth Merz, Hazel Olds, Lucille Rodenberg, Devota Mae Marsh, Gloria Peters, Phyllis Endress, Carolyn Minnick, Eileen Stephens, Irene Benning, and Elda Jean Meyer.

Canning, food preparation, sewing, and room decoration are among the projects offered. These projects are entered in the County Fair and the winners will represent the county at the State Fair. Those students who finish their projects are entitled to go to the Hassmer Camp for several days during the summer. Besides this excellent opportunity, parties, trips, and other various kinds of entertainment are offered the 4-H club members.

Miss Urton, present director of the club, has been an active worker in this field for several years, and with her experienced guidance the members have truly lived up to their symbol: Head, Heart, Hands, and Health.

We shall have

CHOIR

The choir, members of which are chosen for their outstanding vocal ability, deserves the praise of every member and friend of L. C. H. S. In three short years they have proved their ability and have responded to such special requests as school affairs, concerts, and church services. This year their concert of January 16 was their "star" performance.

Each year the seniors and the audience, eager with anticipation, enjoy the soft, smooth, flowing harmonies of the choir at baccalaureate and commencement exercises. This is immensely enjoyable to the seniors after four years of hustling and bustling.

Congratulations are due the choir and Mr. Rattliff for the many moments of pleasure given their audiences.

BAND

Besides regular participation at the basketball games, marching and other public performances, the band and Mr. Ratliff, its sponsor, inaugurated a new series of musical productions.

The band gave eight splendid performances during the past year, opening the season with a concert and a guest soloist, Mrs. Bernice Braun, harpist. In October, the leading roles of the operetta, "The Forest Prince", were sung by Helen Manual and George Horn. The combined groups of the music department gave a concert entitled "Our Glorious America" on Thanksgiving night. Amateurs were in the limelight at the December performance. The star production of the year was "Here Comes The Show Boat," a minstrel show, given in February. A Hawaiian dancer, Nehl Kern, thrilled the audience with her native dancing and the end men, dancers and vocalists surpassed everyone's expectations. Aurora and Lawrenceburg bands vied for honors in the annual March band tournament. The program, "Salute to Seniors", brought to a climax the events of the year. Recipients of band sweaters for past loyalty and service to the band were: Martha Kaffenberg, Margaret Rodenberg, Nathalie Warneford, Ben Holden and David Sappenfield.

GLEE CLUB

A little more soprano on the top note. Goodness gracious, tenors, haven't you learned that tricky part yet? One would think you couldn't read music. Try it from the beginning. That's right, a light crescendo on the first strain. If you basses could stop looking at that comic book a second, you might learn something. Careful there! Are you hurt? If you wouldn't move around so much you wouldn't fall off the platform. Try it again.

So goes a glee club rehearsal. Seventy-two voices are blended to make the perfect harmony you hear at the annual combined Glee Club and Choir Concert.

This year the concert pieces showed a definite trend toward American composers, "Stout Hearted Men", "I'm Falling in Love With Someone", "Sweetheart", "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life", and many other well-known much-loved melodies.

The director, Mr. Francis B. Ratliff, offers many different phases of glee club work. Boy's Chorus, Girl's Chorus, Mixed Chorus, Mixed Quartette, Boy's Quartette, Girl's Quartette, and many others are popular classes.

The glee club and their director deserve much credit on their splendid work during the past year. Of course, we are expecting a bigger and better glee club next year.

N. Y. A.

N. Y. A. is a nationally organized aid for ambitious young students who find it necessary to have assistance in order to continue their education.

The purpose is to give each boy and girl, who so desires, an equal opportunity to avail himself of whatever educational facilities are immediately available.

The varied opportunities give the student a chance to gain along with experience, a sense of responsibility, confidence, and initiative.

A check is sent once a month directly to the student from the United States Treasury, Washington, D. C.

In character building N. Y. A. ranks the highest. Through N. Y. A. a weak student might become a distinctive person of reliability, and well-supplied with experience for the goal in life that he wishes to achieve.

THESPIANS

The new dramatics club, the Thespians, are carving a name for themselves in L. C. H. S. Having been organized in September, their first production was three one-act plays given January 30, Yellow Tickets, a comedy centered in a girls' school, Deferential Kindness, depicting familiar domestic trouble, and Triumph in Ashes, a more serious drama. Their selection for their April play was a comedy with a serious side entitled Headed for Eden.

In addition to the production of two plays the club has taken a number of field trips. Several students attended the Indiana University Dramatics Conference which lasted over a period of three days. Groups attended Philadelphia Story starring Katherine Hepburn, Blossom Time, the story of the life of Franz Schubert, Taming of the Shrew at Walnut Hills High School, and Twelfth Night starring Helen Hayes and Maurice Evans.

Besides learning the art of the stage the Thespians really have a good time. Let's look in on an opening night and see what goes on backstage.

Careful there, not too much make-up. Do you think my sleeves should be rolled up or down? My mustache won't stay on. If I can only remember my first lines. Quiet, quiet, everyone, quiet.

THESPIANS (Continued)

The crucial moment has arrived. The curtain slowly rises and several talented Thespians take their places behind the footlights. The play may be a light comedy or a serious drama. The players, however, know their lines and characters faultlessly. By just watching the smoothness and ease of the actors one begins to realize the months of coaching and practice it required.

The first act is over, the players are running to make their changes. The property man has lost the telephone. The prompter can't find his script. The curl is slowly leaving the leading lady's hair. Someone sat on the hero's hat. Yet, five minutes and the curtain again rises on a calm, serene cast.

Someone forgot his cues but the cast, accustomed as they are to such situations, handle it perfectly. The audience doesn't know, even the director isn't sure.

Finally the curtain falls on the third act. Midst cheers and applause the director, Miss Helen Lees, comes out to take her bow. The Thespians have triumphed again.

1951 A. D.

One of my greatest ambitions was to be a reporter on a large newspaper; and now after hard work and much struggle, I have attained that position. My first assignment was to cover a New York premiere of the outstanding cinema production, "Sands of Time". Happily I was not alone in this venture but had the pleasure of being accompanied by that landed news-hawk and old classmate, El Jean Miller.

With a great eagerness we dressed in the latest fashion—clothes à la Mlle. Cooper and Kistler, the Hattie Carnegie and Schiaparelli of the day. It was but a few minutes ride to the theatre in one of Charles Kiefer's taxis (his cabs cover the U.S. A.). Curtain was just being raised on this production of world renown, penned by Margaret Rodenberg and Virginia Roland and produced by A. J. Hassmer. Not surprising to us was the fact that the movie was screened on a large ranch owned by Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Smith (nee Marjorie Libbert). Libby's diets are still responsible for those Hollywood curves of the feminine stars.

Leading roles in the picture were taken by the nation's favorites, Nath Warneford and Charles Hornbach. Before the movie was well under way, Doctor Kittle was paged by Marva Schein, an usherette, and left hurriedly for another of his inevitable surgery emergencies at the hospital. Those two graduate nurses, Elsie Lyttle and Martha Dell, caught his signal and followed him.

During intermission we slipped out to the lobby to renew acquaintances with Martha Kaffenberg and Cora Lee Clements, who are fast climbing in the ranks of society. We noted that the Riley-Terrill-Seitz "combine" still holds forth; they, too, were enjoying the thrill of being first nighters although at the moment they could be found leaning against a window of J. Schoolcraft's Habadashery.

Back in the box we enjoyed the remaining part of the "ranch romance", made more pleasant by the music of Ben Holden and his "Rhythmooods".

An after-theatre party took us to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hannan's (Audrey Warburton) who were entertaining for friends who had just returned from a world cruise. These persons were none other than Bill Cook and Bill Dennis, who are coaching the lads of rival colleges in the art of basketball. They informed us about other athletes of our high school days; Noah Albright has signed a contract with the National League, and Jim Schnetzer has captured another track trophy.

Later we left the party and headed for a large night-club on Broadway. Much was our amazement upon learning that the proprietor, Norman Glenn, had such a capable manager in Harold Tibbetts. We were taken to our table just as the floor show starring Anna Merritt, blues-singer, vocalizing with Dave Sappenfield's Rhumba Orchestra began. The "barber shop" quartet—McKee, Fible, Jeffries and Heitman—had us laughing until the tears rolled down our cheeks. Next with a queer contraption of horns Bill Schwing came out and surpassed Bob Burns and his bazooka. Character sketches were given by the inimitable Ruth Sedler aided by Edgar Stevens. We would have to toss a coin to decide which of the dance teams was most outstanding; there were the swingsters—Paul Ware and Roberta Jones; the comedians—Lois Jean Lowe and Walter Baker; and the sophisticated ball-room dancers—Betty Walser and Robert Badenhop. Chalk-artist Barbara Litka was swamped with requests for her quick portraits. Betty Moody and her candid camera were much in evidence. Our ears were soothed by the liquid voice of Wanda Eberhart accompanied by Isabelle Stoe.

At a near-by table sat those perennial bachelors, J. Jacobs, scientist, and H. Smashey, his assistant. Hidden behind the potted fernery were Slim Sartin, night-club reporter, Elwood Houston, the modern Winchell, and Doris Kaffenberg, the popular women's reporter. Slim was still suffering from the loss of a tooth recently extracted by Dr. Wm. Wells, but Dorie consoled him with the fact that the Rev. Mr. James E. Miller would give a beautiful sleep-producing sermon at his funeral.

We had to do some "tall hustling" to catch the morning train back to Chicago, and we could have been knocked over with a feather when we bumped into Henrietta Bethel herding a flock of college girls on their homeward trip from a tour of the metropolis. Big-business man Russ Meyer could scarcely keep his eyes away from their smiling faces. We were amused by Ed Foley's making a feeble attempt to help the Mrs. (Irene Knoebel) keep their five boys in their places.

In Chicago we dashed back to the office, shouted "hello" to the telephone operator, Evelyn Goyert, winked at our favorite typist, L'Jean Brookbank, took our copy to the boss's secretary, Jean Wiltberger, and beamed with joy when Editor K. Wells congratulated us on our excellent work.

- 17: It took one point and we made it. Tigers 21, Scottsburg 20.
- 22: Tailspins and dives were experienced by the student body as it went flying with "American Airlines" in convocation.
- 22: Once a Tiger always a Tiger. Lawrenceburg Alumni 20, Aurora Alumni 19.
- 24: Feature this, will you? Aurora 0, Tigers 0. Gene Rhodes makes a swell little devil, doesn't he?
- 29: Uh!! Look at that cobra. Well fan my brow after "Wheels Over India".
- 30: "To be or not to be". Thespian, three-one-act plays given.
- 30: L. C. H. S. "Life" goes to a "President's Tea Dance".
- 31: We held our own tonight. Tigers 25, Brookville 20.

Life is just beginning now for '41 so let's clamber on into February.

- February 4: This just can't go on. North Vernon 35, Tigers 28.
- 5: Ego amo te: Pardon, we're going to Latin Club.
- 6: Juniors take time out for a little recreation themselves by throwing a "get together" in cafeteria. (Appropriate place, eh what!)
- 7: The old saying still goes: "Never say die, say do". Tigers 44, Liberty 35.
- 10: Juniors and friends pay last respects to Mary Taylor.

- 11: These Thespians are really showing everybody whom they are. They're having an "All Star" party tonight.
- 12: "Honest Abe" takes a bow.
- 12: God gave every man a tongue and so, Hazel Olds and Phylis Traylor let some flourishing language rock the walls of the gym today.
- 14: First we're up and now we're down: Hagerstown 34, Tigers 28.
- 18: The Thespians are "Heading for Eden".
- 19: "Bruce, don't treat me so woffly". Terrill injured eye in practice.
- 20: Here comes the Showboat and it's a Minstrel in the gym tonight.
- 21: Imagine that! Madison 33, Tigers 30.
- 21: Henry Smashey refused to teach economics class, wonder why?
- 22: Quote: "I did it with my little hatchet", unquote. Remember? George Washington.
- 25: Here's a chance for somebody. Seniors visited by Mr. Reynolds of Seagram's in relation to their scholarship.
- 26: Faculty receives pralines from H. C. Crater.
- 27: Who's Who in America. Civics and Economics classes hold a round table discussion in library.
- 27: Come to order! Come to order! Seniors hold class meeting.
- 27: One more student joins the parade of lenses. Ditty Lacy must have visited an optometrist.

CALENDAR (Continued)

27: Looks like this day of February will never end but the sectional is just beginning at Aurora.

28: This is the end: Aurora 46, Tigers 24.

Here comes that lion, I mean March, of course. There's a steady gale blowing but we can push our way down to the first.

March 1: You might have known: Aurora tops the sectional tourney.

4: Professors going to high school! Well, just to give the juniors and seniors a little advice about college.

5: Singing takes the mind off scholastic duties. Is this another convocation trick?

8: They finally met their day. Aurora submitted to Rushville at the Regional.

12: "When April Comes" says Mr. Fabian, "I'll have another play already".

13: Let's get along to the "Sadie Hawkins" dance tonight.

13: Those juniors are really getting down to brass tacks. They had a class meeting today. On to the Prom!

13: Hear those sweet and hot licks echoing through the halls. Hmmmmm, they're coming from Miss Kirkpatrick's room. Boys are getting their first lesson in rhythm.

14: This Riley boy really gets around mostly on his knees. I didn't know we were going to start a fad by falling up the stairs.

17: We'll have to rest our feet now as we take a jaunt in an old jalopy down to the Aurora-Lawrenceburg Band Tournament.

19: Surprise No rain today.

20: Ah! "What a Life", first day of Spring and the dramatics class is taking advantage of it, by having a real true amphitheatre.

20: Strike up the band. I should say bands, for Lawrenceburg and Aurora are at it in the old Tiger den.

21: Annual staff takes over convocation where they planted "Corn", mostly "Green Corn".

21: Something lighting up the halls today, say, get a load of those new basketball sweaters Terrill, Horn, and Hornbach are wearing. That explains everything.

Everyone should trip a "Light Fantastic" all through the month so let's start right out with April Fool's day and Bill Dennis' "clever" jokes.

April 3: First baseball game of season was opened and closed successfully as Tigers took Taylor High 7 to 6.

3: Another triumph for the third of the month. The Thespians took everyone to Paradise in "Headed for Eden".

9: The L'Alliance Francaise, French Club to you, had a meeting.

9: Puff, puff, whew! We can hardly keep up with this track team. Dual track meet at Aurora.

CALENDAR (Continued)

- 11: Well, well, look what we ran across—"spring vacation".
- 13: Hurry or we'll miss the Easter Parade.
- 15: We must be forming habits—another dual track meet with Aurora.
- 17: Strike up the band! "Salute to Seniors".
- 18: All the Kings and Queens entered the cafeteria castle and had a grand time at the Chess Club Dance.
- 18: Hope the baseball team ate their Wheaties today 'cause they're meeting Madison right here on our own home field.
- 19: County track meet at Aurora.
- 25: Batesville, here we come! We're bringing our baseball team, too.
- 25: Juniors are really working hard 'cause their time is drawing nigh. They held a benefit tea dance this afternoon.
- 26: No, this isn't a geometry course when we say we're going to a quadrangular track meet at Batesville.

Won't be long now; we'll barely have time to breathe as we make our tracks over May.

- May 1: Here's that "fancy name" club with a super French party, with all the trimmings.

- 1: They're at it again, the baseball team I mean. They're going to visit Aurora again.
- 2: Chemistry conference at old L. C. H. S. today.
- 3: Lot of conferences lately—a track conference at Hanover today.
- 9: Baseball game at Madison just so the team can stay on the field.
- 10: Sectional track meet at Rushville. Remember an earlier sport???
- 10: At last, at last, and it's over all too soon, but look at that gym, look at those dresses. Why? Why, it is the Junior-Senior Dance in Hawaiian setting.
- 16: We can't get enough school without having the seniors give "The Hoosier Schoolmaster".
- 16: Will this never cease? Another baseball game with Aurora here.
- 20: Seniors take over for a day.
- 21: Tentative Industrial Arts Exhibit.
- 23: So long Seniors (you lucky dogs). Your four years at L. C. H. S. are complete (?).
- 25: Baccalaureate.
- 26: Life book of seniors closed with commencement only to begin a new volume in the years to come.
- 29: Oh woeful day! Why am I saying that? Aren't your "dogs" tired too after coming all the way? School's out!
